Traver Dismisses Charge Against Charles M. Amato

County Judge Acts Upon Request of Counsel; Has Made Restitution to the Family

Welcome Given

Judge Receives Greetings Upon His Return After Long Illness

A motion for dismissal of a second degree manslaughter charge and one of second degree assault, lodged against Charles M. Amato, of 52 East Strand, was granted yesterday afternoon by County Judge Frederick G. Traver.

Attorney Robert G. Groves, who with A. J. Cook appeared for the defendant, asked the court to dismiss the indictment, stressing the point that Amato had made all possible restitution to the family of Charles Rhenstrom, whose death in a downtown grill where Amato worked as bartender, resulted in the charges.

Rhenstrom was fatally injured during a fight in the grill about a year ago.

Attorney Groves pointed out that Amato had made restitution to the family following a civil action and he felt that from the testimony at that trial, there was grave doubt if the defendant could be convicted as indicted.

Marie Burhan, mother of Rhenstrom, had received a verdict in her favor following the civil action, the attorney said, and she had not named in the request that the indictment be dismissed.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray expressed himself as favorable to a dismissal since the complainant had also asked it. Judge Traver then granted the dismissal and bail was exonerated. The grand jury had also recommended leniency at the time the indictment was handed up.

Traver Is Welcomed

County Judge Frederick G. Traver, who has been off the bench since last summer because of illness, presided at the adjourned term of county court. Several criminal matters which have been pending were disposed of.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray, who has been connected with the district attorney's office for a number of years, first as assistant attorney and then as prosecuting attorney, paid his respects to Judge Traver and said that he was extremely happy to see Judge Traver presiding again at the court after his illness, particularly so at this time since it was his last appearance as district attorney of Ulster county.

Mr. Murray said it was a source of great pleasure to be able to welcome Judge Traver back to the bench after his illness and was glad that he had been able to do so before his term as district attorney expired.

Judge Traver said he hoped that he would be able to take over the balance of his term as county judge and said that it was with regret he turned over the reins to the members of the bar that Mr. Murray was retiring as district attorney.

"Our relations have been long and friendly," said Judge Traver, "and the people of Ulster county are sustaining a great loss when you retire from the office. Your term has been unusually successful," and he spoke of the record of Mr. Murray as district attorney mentioning the fact that during his tenure but few cases where a defendant had been indicted and brought to trial when a conviction was not sustained by a jury.

"I cannot but speak of the remarkable success of your office and extend to you good wishes and all success," concluded Judge Traver.

Christmas Spirit

The spirit of Christmas prevailed in the court and when Chris J. Flanagan and N. LeVan Haven appeared on behalf of three negro clients who had been fined at a prior session of court and explained that the gentlemen had made every effort to pay their fines but had been unable to pay them in their entirety the court granted the February term to complete payments of the fines. That will be February 11.

Jesse Davis, one of the trio convicted of policy ticket possession, Mr. Haver said, had been unable to pay his fine and had spent 32 days in jail and had a balance of $800 due on his fine. Napoleon "Frisco" Bonaparte had paid $100 and Cleveland Thomas had likewise paid $100 and Mr. Haver asked that the men be given until February to pay the fines. Judge Traver allowed the extension, although Mr. Murray said he could not consent to extensions of time for all the defendants as he "did

Finns Ask 50 Million Loan From Capital

Representatives Sound Out Leaders In Congress; Would Use Cash To Purchase War Materials

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Finland was reported reliably today to be seeking a $50,000,000 loan from the United States government to buy war materials for use against invading Russian armies.

Representatives of the Finnish government were said to have sounded out congressional leaders on the proposal after they were unsuccessful in obtaining Wall Street financing for such a sum.

Although these representatives were described as restrained in their discussions, one member of congress, who was approached, said he gained the distinct impression that the Finns felt they could not long hold out against Russia's overpowering forces unless they were given more than moral support.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation recently lent Finland $10,000,000 for the purchase in this country of non-war materials such as agricultural supplies. This money went to the Finnish-American Trading Corporation, organized by J. H. Procope, Finnish minister to the United States.

While the Finns welcomed this, they were represented as feeling that their greatest need was for battle planes, guns and other war materials.

Preliminary discussions among congressmen apparently brought no definite reaction one way or the other on the proposed loan because of the complex questions involved.

Such a loan, it was pointed out, would violate a principle which has been laid down in this government's recent financial transactions with other countries—that no money would be lent for the purchase of war materials.

Most government officials agreed that if Finland were to obtain a $50,000,000 loan to get the war supplies it needs, congress would have to approve the transaction.

Arauca Is Placed Under Libel Writ

German Freighter Guarded by Coastal Officers on Action by Texans

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP)—Eight armed coast guardsmen watched over the German freighter Arauca today after the vessel, fugitive from a British warship, was placed under a federal libel attachment by a Texas Sugar Company.

The guardsmen marched aboard the Arauca last night after a navy detachment from the U. S. destroyer Philip had searched the vessel. Coast Guard officials here declined to explain the developments.

The British cruiser Orion, which fired a shot across the Arauca's bow and chased her into Port Everglades Tuesday, continued to hover a few miles offshore.

The libel action, growing out of a $38,541.72 claim against the Hamburg-American Line, was filed at Miami.

"We hurried this action," said James Dixon, Miami attorney for the sugar company, "because we were afraid the crew would take the ship outside the harbor and sink it before they would submit to capture by the British."

The Arauca left Vera Cruz, Mexico, last Thursday for Germany with a general cargo of phosphates, hides and sisal fiber. Washington officials said yesterday the ship, as a merchantman, could stay here indefinitely.

Hill Is Appointed

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Grover B. Hill of Gainesville, Tex., was appointed by President Roosevelt today to be assistant secretary of agriculture in place of Harry L. Brown, who recently resigned to take a position with the TVA.

Americans, if They Join Canadian Air Force, Will Lose Citizenship

Ottawa, Dec. 21.—(Canadian Press)—Americans may fight for Canada in the air, it appeared today, but at the cost of becoming men without a country.

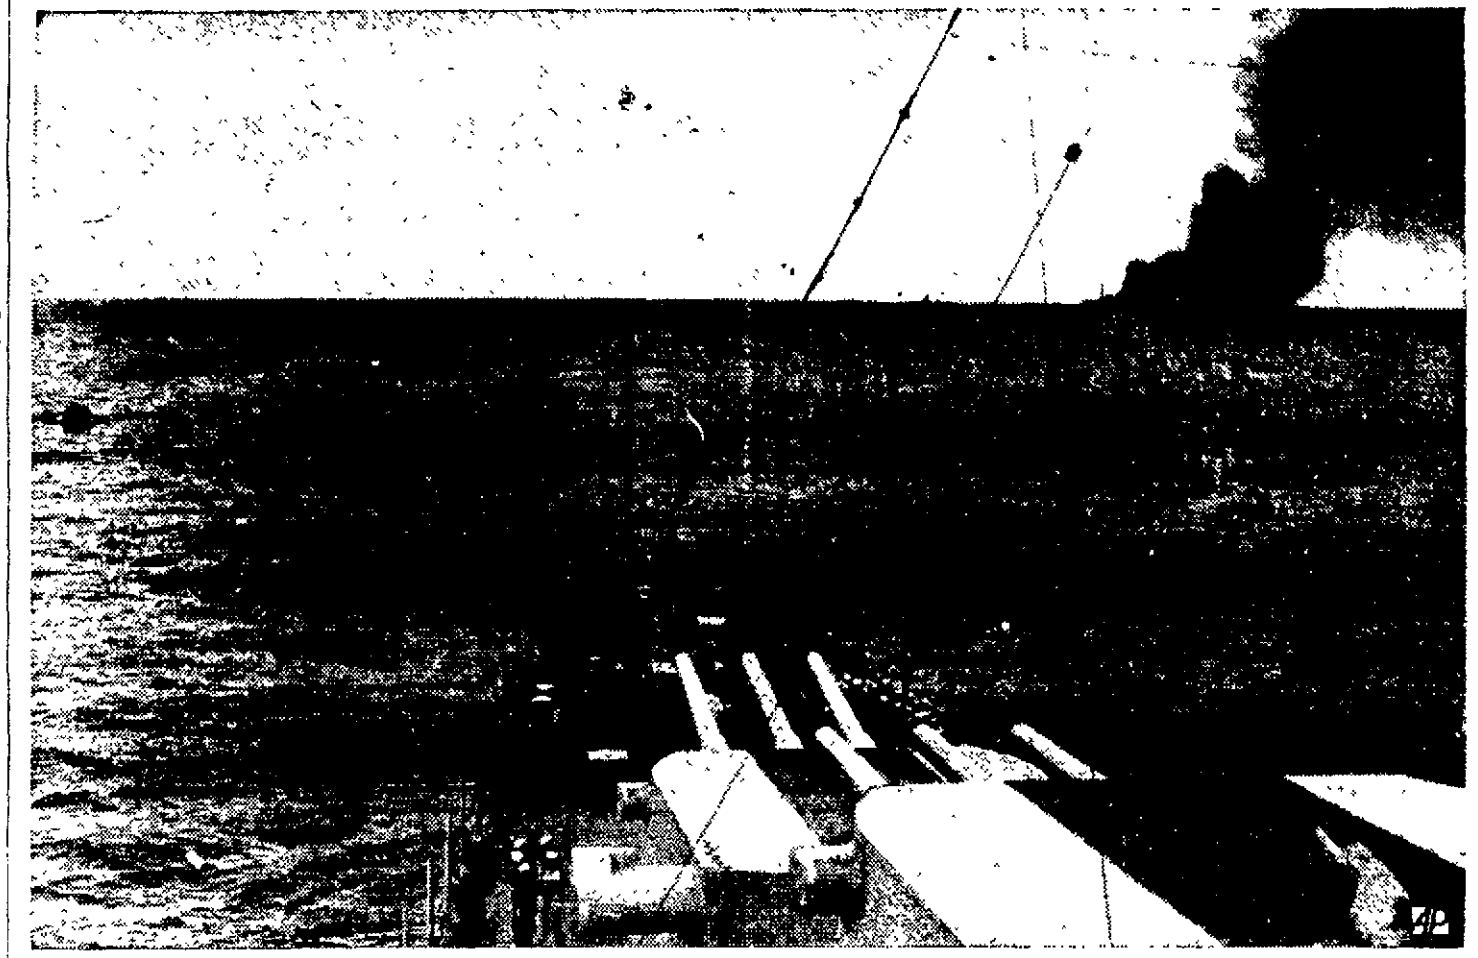

In the army, however, the rules still provide against the enlistment of non-British citizens.

Canadians had a quick explanation for reports from the United Kingdom that about 100 Americans were in the first Canadian contingent which landed there Sunday—they said the "Americans" apparently were Canadians who had resided in the United States or Americans who had become naturalized British.

Restrictions against enlistment of aliens in the Canadian military forces remain in force and officials said none were accepted knowingly.

It is always possible, however,

Columbus Burns While British Ship Stands By

This was the dramatic scene 400 miles off the United States coast as the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa, from which photo was made, arrived to find the Nazi liner Columbus in flames and being scuttled by her crew. Just to left of burning liner is a British destroyer, identified by survivors as the Hyperion. The sea is dotted with lifeboats coming from the Columbus to the U. S. cruiser. U. S. sailors are preparing to receive them.

No City Quarantines First in 10 Years at Christmas Season

For the first time in 10 years there are no communicable diseases under quarantine in Kingston during the holiday season, according to Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer.

The health officer said it was a remarkable fact that for the first time in that period there were no scarlet fever cases in the city at this season of the year.

In other years there always had been at least several cases of scarlet fever under quarantine.

Liberals May Call Own Convention

Secretary Issues Opinion at His Press Conference at Capital

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today that liberals among the Democrats and Republicans might call a national convention some time before the 1940 presidential campaign to organize support for whichever party named a liberal to head its ticket.

At his press conference Ickes said that he had discussed such a possibility with Senators Norris (Ind.-Neb.) and LaFollette (Wis.).

The decision to call the conference might or might not depend upon whether President Roosevelt (Continued on Page 14)

Kilner Is Named To Air Committee

Brigadier General Gets Col. Lindbergh's Post; Once Was in Air Corps

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The White House announced today the appointment of Brigadier General Walter G. Kilner as a member of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, to replace Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who recently retired from the committee.

Kilner is a retired assistant chief of the army air corps.

President Roosevelt also reappointed for a five-year term on the committee, Dr. Jerome C. Hunsaker, head of the department of aeronautical engineering of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, chairman of the advisory committee, in recommending the appointments, said Lindbergh had informed the committee "he does not expect in the future to concentrate his attention on aeronautical matters" but was willing to serve the committee on special assignments and in an advisory capacity.

Six Inspectors Start Columbus Inquiry

Two Days Are Expected Necessary for Hearing Witnesses' Testimony at Ellis Island

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Behind closed doors in a building on Ellis Island six inspectors today began questioning survivors of the scuttled German liner Columbus to determine their status under the immigration laws.

The examination of the seamen was expected to require at least two days. Byron H. Uhl, New York district director of immigration, said the task was rendered more difficult because the usual crew list was not available, it presumably having gone down with the Columbus.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were sitting in on the inquiry to determine whether any of the survivors were members of the German naval or military intelligence service.

Uhl explained that "while we want to make things as pleasant as possible for the survivors they will not be permitted to receive mail or other communications or to have visitors until their status is determined."

A representative of the German consulate and officials of the Hamburg-American North German Lloyd Line were at Ellis Island conferring with the master of the Columbus and other officers.

'You Obey Orders'

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Survivors of the German liner Columbus told how Nazi ships carried trained "scuttle squads" to comply with general orders from Berlin requiring them to burn and sink their own vessels rather than let them fall into enemy hands.

The Columbus, destroyed by its own crew Tuesday off the American coast after it sighted a British destroyer, was the 12th Nazi ship sent to the bottom under Adolf Hitler's maritime policy of suicide before capture.

His master, Captain Wilhelm Daehne, who with 576 other survivors was taken to Ellis Island last night from the rescue vessel, the U. S. cruiser Tuscaloosa, seemed depressed at the loss of his ship but shrugged fatalistically when asked why he had given the command to sink it.

"You get an order and you obey," he said quietly. "You don't ask questions."

The lean, middle-aged German sea captain said the Columbus scuttled within the American neutrality zone 240 miles southeast of Nantucket shoals lightship, carried no weapons other than "six pairs of boxing gloves."

The crew members were highly excited on docking at Ellis Island to read of the suicide at Buenos Aires of Capt. Hans Langsdorff of the Admiral Graf Spee, who scuttled his crippled pocket battleship off Montevideo last Sunday on orders from Berlin.

No German officer would comment, however, on Capt. Langsdorff's death.

The survivors, including nine women stewardesses and two boys, will be kept at Ellis Island until they have been examined by immigration officials.

Republics Preparing Statement to Europe On Neutrality Belt

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The American republics prepared a strong statement to Europe's belligerents today, to tell them in effect that further violations of the neutrality belt will bring a stronger reaction than wordy diplomatic protests.

The statement, which may be issued tomorrow, is to be a general declaration of the 21 nations, including the United States, which laid down the zone at the Pan American conference in Panama last summer.

Gill Also Says 'God' Paid Cash

Witness Testifies That at Sale of Property Divine Counted Out $3,204

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A dusky "angel" who stood up when Father Divine entered the courtroom was ordered ejected today by Supreme Court Justice Benedict Dineen as more witnesses testified that the negro cult leader himself paid cash for properties which were recorded in the names of his disciples.

Justice Dineen previously had ordered Divine's followers to keep their seats when the five-foot leader, they call "god," entered the room.

Dineen and his "peace mission" are defendants in a $6,500 equity action brought by Mrs. Verinda Brown, 52, a former "angel" who is seeking to have Divine's many real estate "kingdoms" thrown in to receivership and sold.

Walter Gill, an attorney, of Kingston, N. Y., testified that as a referee in a foreclosure sale he sold an estate at Stone Ridge, N. Y., on December 15, 1935, to Divine, who counted out $3,204.50 in cash from a pasteboard box and turned it over to him.

Gill said the deed to the prop-

Langsdorff's Note to Embassy Is Kept Secret by Nazis at Argentine Capital

Buenos Aires, Dec. 21 (AP)—The secrets of Capt. Hans Langsdorff's thoughts in the hours of darkness before he died by his own hand will go with him to the grave today.

The commander, who obeyed orders of Adolf Hitler in destroying the German raider Graf Spee Sunday rather than renew a battle with British cruisers outside Montevideo, wrote a farewell letter to the German embassy just before committing suicide Tuesday night.

An Argentine naval commission investigating his death recommended that the letter be impounded and withheld from the public. It said its report would show that Langsdorff shot himself in his room at the naval arsenal here as reported by the embassy.

The slight body of the 45-year-old commander lay in state at the

Finnish Defenders Keep Reds Back on Three Warfronts

Helsinki, Dec. 21 (AP)—Soviet Russian fliers in terrifying raids through the day bombed Helsinki and more than a score of cities and villages in southern and western Finland today and machine-gunned two trains.

More than 30 bombs were dropped in the Helsinki hospital area. Only two persons were injured and none was killed in Helsinki, but many were killed or wounded elsewhere.

Two persons were announced by officials to have been killed aboard the Turko-Helsinki express.

Planes Bomb Hospital

Helsinki, Dec. 21 (AP)—Soviet Russian planes today bombed a hospital dormitory, heavily damaged a school for the blind and struck seven out of 10 other hospital buildings. Two hospital patients were among the injured, and some deaths were reported likely.

This raid on Helsinki, coming on the sixtieth birthday of Joseph Stalin, the Russian leader, started at 11:58 a. m. (4:58 a. m., E.S.T.), and followed earlier attacks on towns for 25 miles around the capital.

Fifteen bombs fell in the five-block hospital area. (As this story was being sent via Copenhagen, the connection suddenly was severed, presumably by another air raid alarm.)

It was the third successive day of aerial attacks on Helsinki and vicinity.

A direct hit on the Soviet Russian 22,965th battleship Ostrovskaya Revolutia (October Revolution) was reported by Finnish officials today.

The Finnish announcement said the hit was scored by coast defense batteries guarding Koivisto, a Gulf of Finland seaport about 60 miles northwest of Leningrad.

Finns Hold Lines

On three warfronts, Finnish defenders held their snow-sheathed lines, aided by blizzards and bitter cold, against the Red army's massed warplanes and tanks.

A Danish news dispatch to Copenhagen reported two days ago that the October Revolution had been sunk. This, however, was denied unofficially in Helsinki before confirmation today that the warship had been hit.

(One of three Russian battleships, the October Revolution was completed in 1914 and was part of the czarist fleet in the World War as the Gangut. Her normal crew is 1,125 men and her heavy-light weapons 12 12-inch and 16 4.7-inch cannon.)

A Russian destroyer and patrol ship were reported sunk by the Finns last week.)

Red army planes attacked Helsinki, the southwest corner of the Finnish empire, yesterday and swung along the railroad in the direction of Helsinki.

The extent of the damage was not known but reports from scattered towns indicated a heavy toll of civilian deaths and injuries.

Provincial advices indicated also that about 200 Russian planes were seen in the widespread attacks, especially in the southeast, last night. A similar estimate was made of air raiders sighted in daylight both Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Soviet Russian forces, stretched on three sides like a great hand trying to clench, were stopped on the Karelian isthmus in the south and in the southeast

An hour before midnight tonight, Maselkiewicz and two other men will die in Sing Sing's electric chair, if Governor Herbert Lehman does not give them last-minute commutations. Group to Present Colorful Cantata

The singing and dramatization of Helen Fairchild's Christmas cantata, "The Son of The Highest," in a setting of candlelight, will feature the evening service in the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street and Tremper avenue, next Sunday at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director, assisted by Miss Ruby Tongue, who directs the drama. A choir of about 26 voices, including several assisting soloists, will be heard.

The opening number on the program will be a French horn solo of "Silent Night, Holy Night," played by Hollis Burhans; and the choir and congregation will join in singing "O Come All Ye Faithful." Following the invocation the Junior Choir will sing "The Lord's Prayer," and the Scripture selection will be read by the pastor unseen while the organ plays.

As the cantata proceeds, various incidents in the birth of Christ will be depicted from the platform, illustrating the message of the cantata. Incidental solos and a male quartet number are features of this cantata. Soloists to participate are: W. Gordon Burhans, bass; Donald Clark, baritone; Raymond DuBois, baritone; Miss Jesse Kaprelin, Miss Vivian Swart, and Joyce Burhans, soprano; Miss Bernice Burhans, contralto; Clifford and Robert Van Valkenburgh, tenors. Miss Kaprelin, as a special number, will sing "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod; and Mr. Clark, who recently returned from Syracuse University where he is president of the Men's Glee Club, is to present a special selection. The evening's program will close as the chorus choir sings "The Sanctus" by Gounod, followed by the Benediction.

In the morning service at 11 o'clock the musical program will consist of the following numbers: Prelude "Jesu Bambino" by Pedro Yon, played by Curtis Shurter, violinist; W. Gordon Burhans, cellist; and Miss Merrihew at the organ; Luther's "Cradle Song" to be sung by the Junior Choir; anthem by Senior Choir, "Cherubim Song" by Bortniansky; a tenor solo by Robert Van Valkenburgh; and postlude, "The Heavens Are Telling" by Haydn. The subject of the pastor's message will be "The Glorious Birth."

The Christmas program of the Sunday School will be presented on Friday, December 22, at 7:30 o'clock in lower hall of Ramsey building.

Ellenville Residents Respond Generously to Christmas Fund

Ellenville, Dec. 21.—William E. Graham, chairman of the Community Christmas Fund, says Ellenville residents are responding generously to the plea for food, clothing and toys for the needy.

"A merry Christmas for every unfortunate family in this vicinity is our goal," said Mr. Graham today at committee headquarters, 82 Canal street, "and the way gifts are pouring in, it seems certain that we shall be successful." The George D. Cook Post No. 1117, American Legion, is taking a prominent part in the drive under leadership of Commander R. Earl Haley.

Woodstock Shows Book Circulation Gain at Library

Woodstock, Dec. 21.—Contained in the local librarian's report, given at the board meeting held last Thursday, were records which showed that the rate of increase during the three months of September, October and November over the same months of last year was more than 175 per cent.

Last year during the entire year there was a circulation of 18,884. But this year, for the 11 months since January, 19,787 volumes have passed in and out over the librarian's desk. With the December circulation added, it is expected that the final figures for the year will amount to well over 20,000.

By the accepted library standards, the maximum circulation which a single librarian may be expected to handle is 19,000. At the Woodstock library's rate of increase, it will now be necessary for the assistant librarian to give more hours of service at the desk. The number of books added during the 11 months of 1939 also shows a notable increase. The book committee has purchased 250 new volumes; the gifts mounted to 620. By the will of the late Miss Anne Moore, her entire library was to be given to the Woodstock Library. When duplicates have been eliminated this gift will still mean a valuable addition to the book list. Additional stacks are to be placed upstairs to make these volumes available for inspection and circulation.

HIGH FALLS

The High Falls community Christmas entertainment will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Firemen's Hall. The High Falls School will present a program with the following persons participating: Della McCall, Alvin McCall, the Rev. A. F. Marler, the Rev. Harold Hoffman, Jane Briggs, Wingate Hart, Walter Smith, Philip Schoonmaker, Natalie VanLear, Katherine Countryman, Thelma Williams, Mavis Schoonmaker, Mary Countryman, Blanche DeBarbieri, John McCall, Gerald Smith, Henriette Quick, Loretta Ayers, Hazel Swehla, Beverly Nicholas, William Williams, Thelma Sutton, Gloria Schleede, Kenneth Smith, Herbert Ayers, Janet Williams, Mary Smith, Katherine Quick, Janet McCall, Richard Dav-of the local Legion post, is in charge of contributions at headquarters.

"We're glad to get anything that can be used in a Christmas basket," said Mr. Bahr yesterday. The drive office has an iron kettle at the front door to receive money for additional foods and gifts.

A small gaily-trimmed evergreen brightens one of the windows and wall shelves on either side of the large store are filled with oranges, nuts, candy, canned goods, clothing, dolls and other toys. Baskets will be packed and delivered Saturday afternoon to nearly 70 families, including about 165 children and 120 adults.

Statistics calculated it could happen only once in 54,000 cuttings of a deck of cards. Six married couples in Roanoke, Va., comprising the Sleepy Hollow Bridge Club, met regularly for 11 years and cut cards for partners. One night recently, the cutting paired man and wife as partners in all six couples. That's the way they were paired for a first hand over a decade ago.

Pleads Guilty To Liquor Counts

New York, Dec. 19 (Special)—Pleas of guilty to charges pending against him in Federal Court here, all involving the operation of stills and the transportation of liquor in Ulster county, were made before Judge Murray Hulbert by John Sesa, alias John Risi and alias several other names.

Among the charges against him, contained in four indictments, was the operation of a 1,500-gallon still, with others, at the "Fabel Camp, Creek Locks. Another indictment alleges the illicit transportation of liquor on behalf of Nicholas Cerrato, New Paltz and Kingston meetings with Cerrato are mentioned in the complaint.

Sesa is suffering from tuberculosis, Judge Hulbert was told by one of the assistant district attorneys. The court ordered a medical examination made and a report of the man's condition submitted to him before January 2, which he set for sentencing.

Net profits for all manufacturers averaged $29 per passenger car in 1937, before payment of federal income tax, compared with $55.30 per unit in 1929, according to the Commission.

KNIGHT ARRIVES WITH (?) WIFE

Richard A. Knight, New York lawyer who stood on his head at the opera, was glum (above) as he arrived from the west on the same train as Mrs. Knight, in hope of a reconciliation. They are shown in a New York station where Mrs. Knight said she would continue her divorce charges and refused to kiss him for photographs. She contends Knight tore off her clothes at parties, broke down doors and beat her.

War Costs 100 Million a Day

Germany Leads in Estimate Of Current European Expenditures.

WASHINGTON.—Europe's war is costing the belligerents possibly 100 million dollars—a tenth of a billion—a day in current cash outlay alone. Additional costs in losses of property, arms, and commercial revenue cannot be computed now.

The 100 million is neither an official nor exact figure. It is merely an estimate made from the best information available here—and the best is none too good.

The estimate may be far too high. On the other hand, war costs may rise even further, if and when wholesale destruction of men, guns, fortifications and ships begins.

However, data from several sources indicate that Germany, heading the list, may have spent 12 billion dollars for war by the end of her fiscal year next March; Great Britain, her dominions and colonies, at least five billion 262 million dollars, and France, using a calendar year fiscal period, at least $2,194,738,000 by the end of 1939.

The 100 million dollar figure was computed like this: By the end of March, Germany and the British empire supposedly will have spent 17 billion 262 million dollars for a war that began 21 days earlier, on September 2, or $81,800,000 a day. Of that amount Germany will have spent $57,260,000 a day and Britain $24,540,000 a day. By the end of December, 120 days after the start of hostilities, France will have spent $2,194,738,081, or $18,300,000 a day. The total is 100 million dollars a day.

That figure does not take into account the billions that were spent in years prior to the German-British fiscal year of 1939-40 and the French year of 1939 for arms and ammunition now being expended on the western front.

Probably no one outside Hitler's inner circle knows exactly what Germany is spending for the war—or anything else. The Nazis don't publish budgets.

Germany Spends 12 Billion.

However, Hitler has said that war expenditures for the last six years would total 36 billion dollars (figuring on a value of 40 cents for the reichsmark). That's six billion a year, nearly four times the current national defense expenditures of the United States, a country much wealthier than Germany.

In addition, a decree of September 22 provided an additional six billion dollars for the 1939-40 fiscal period ending March 31. That's an aggregate of 12 billion dollars being currently spent.

If the French war costs were anything like the five billion dollars appropriated by the British, the German figure would not seem extraordinary. The total allied expenses would be 10 billion dollars or better, against 12 billion dollars for Germany.

The methodical English publish understandable budgets. They estimated in April that they'd need $5,230,776,000 (on a basis of $4 as the value of the pound) for the 1939-40 year beginning April 1, nearly half of it for defense.

By the time the war got under way the estimates had been boosted to $7,730,364,000, including $4,996,016,000 for the war, nearly three times the current United States defense figure but still less than half the estimated German total. The budget then was nearly double 1938-39 expenditures.

Millions of Dollars Lost By Increased Oak Fungus

KENT, OHIO.—Dr. J. Arthur Herrick of Kent State university's biology department has completed his research on the damaging fungus which is a parasite of the oak tree. "The basal decay of oaks has become of world importance," he said. "Nearly 25 per cent of the present stalks of our oaks are badly infected and hollow at the base, which is causing millions of dollars damage."

Herrick has studied the oak tree fungus for four years.

Rush Film Theater PASADENA, CALIF.—One way of judging the drawing power of a theatrical attraction is the speed with which the theater is filled. At the "Meglin Kiddle review" at the Civic auditorium the 3,000 seats were filled seven minutes after the doors were opened.

Coloring Aids Efficiency Efficiency and high production in factories are aided by proper color selection, according to industrial studies. No longer is it considered necessary to paint machines and factory walls a depressing gray. Restful and tasteful colors are chosen instead—with such parts of the machinery as are particularly dangerous done in sharp contrast. Employees are also inclined to take better care of machinery that is finished in light colors and not let accumulations of dirt and grease detract from its clean appearance. In one air conditioned, windowless factory a pleasant shade of orange is applied to the machinery and this apparently has a stimulating effect on the workers. In another factory where much glass is used in the walls, the machinery is painted in light pastels.

Truck Overtakes on Hurley Road

A large International truck, carrying a load of two heavy steel castings, overturned on the curve near the Harford gas station, Ellenville-Kingston road, about 7 o'clock this morning. The truck belonged to the Gluck Motor Service of Pottsville, Pa. and was being driven by Charles Kemery of Pottsville, who told Deputy Sheriff Brown that the accident happened when he was forced over by a truck and trailer. The shifting of the heavy castings, which were being taken to Hudson, made righting of the truck difficult. The truck was taken to the Doc Smith Garage. The body was badly damaged.

py to be ashore and laughed as they described how they scuttled the third largest vessel in the German merchant marine. More serious was Third Officer Henry Lampe, 27, who said the two crew members lost when the others put out in 22 lifeboats apparently thought the alarm was only the signal for another "scuttle drill."

Captain Daehne told this story: "We came to Vera Cruz on September 3 after landing our passengers at Havana. You remember we were on a cruise at the outbreak of the war. We didn't have enough fuel to make a run home, so it was necessary to go to a Mexican port. The Columbus, with a draft of 35 feet, was too big to make the port proper at Vera Cruz, so we anchored outside a little. On October 3, when winter began to set in on us, it was not safe for us outside, and after long and difficult negotiations with the Mexican authorities, we got them to agree to give us anchorage at Anton Livardo, where the seas were less heavy and we had a safe anchorage."

"That is 15 miles south of Vera Cruz, where we were virtually interned. Fresh water and provisions became a serious problem and finally forced us to make the break for home, though we didn't get very far. We left on Thursday, December 14, about noon." Asked if he left on orders, the captain replied, "We must have had orders. That's obvious."

Takes Up Escort

"Last Monday, the Tuscaloosa took up the escort. Tuesday at 2:30, when we had remarkable visibility and could see many miles, I saw a destroyer on the starboard side. At 2:55, I was able to make out the British flag. "Her funnels were not so clean, and I couldn't make out any details except that she was a G class destroyer. At 2:56, I sounded the alarm, the men understanding they were to stand by and scuttle and burn. You know I had drilled them in that for weeks. The destroyer was about two miles astern. At the same time, I telegraphed our position to all ships, advising them I was ready to scuttle to prevent the Columbus from falling into the hands of a British warship."

"At 2:57, I got a flag signal from the British destroyer which said, 'stop immediately.' At that time, the Tuscaloosa, which had been steaming beside us, turned aside to wait developments. At 3:05, the British fired two shots across our bow, and I gave the order to lower the boats. "At 3:06, I gave the order to scuttle, to open the sea cocks. By 3:14, all of the boats were lowered and cleared of the ship, except Nos. 13 and 14, which were held for the scuttling crew and fire brigade. At 3:15, the chief engineer advised me that all personnel had left the engine room, and the valves were open. Then I ordered them to set the fire."

"(The Tuscaloosa) did everything sailors can do for other sailors under those circumstances. They kept us warm and were fine to the women stewardesses. Beyond that, gentlemen, what is there to say? When a sailor gets an order, he fulfills it. You ask no questions. I did the same as any other captain, any American captain, would do under the circumstances."

Spitale Is Called Moving Force in Diamond Slaying

New York, Dec. 21 (AP).—Salvatore Spitalo was declared today in a report of the probation officer of the court of general session to have been the moving force behind the assassination some years ago of Jack "Legs" Diamond, notorious gangster.

In the report, made public in connection with the sentencing of Spitalo to from five to 10 years in Sing Sing for grand larceny, Irving Halpern, the chief probation officer, declared an inquiry by his office had indicated that Diamond was shot by order of Spitalo and Irving Bitz.

Involved, Halpern added, was a refusal of Diamond to pay back $200,000 given to him for a shipment of drugs from Germany. Spitalo and Bitz were both unsuccessful intermediaries with the underworld in the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

The probation report stated that they had formed a combine to smuggle narcotics and had given Diamond the $200,000 to bring narcotics into this country. Halpern also advised the court that Diamond had gone to Germany but, being unable to complete his shipping arrangements, had returned here.

Since the narcotics were not delivered, the report went on, Diamond was called upon to refund the money. This he allegedly refused to do and an underworld death sentence was passed by Spitalo and Bitz, said Halpern.

Diamond, known as "The Clay Pigeon" because so many attempts at assassination had failed, was killed in an Albany, N. Y., rooming house in December, 1931.

the certificate until the crop reached a processor who would have to absorb its cost in his general processing expenses. Thus, critics of the plan argue, the cost would be passed on to consumers in the form of higher prices for bread, cloth and other articles made from the crops.

Officials Are Restrained

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—State officials have been restrained temporarily from enforcement of the unclaimed funds act against domestic life insurance companies, pending a determination of the state's constitutionality. Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook, who granted a temporary injunction yesterday at the request of the New York Life Insurance Company, emphasized he was not passing upon the act's validity. The company will be required to turn over about $27,000 to the state comptroller next April, if the act is held valid.

Some of Dies' Hay-Makers Land— Anyway, Things Start to Happen Since Dies Started...

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Washington—Martin Dies has nailed the air with many a grotesque haymaker intended for the solar plexus of some "ism" outfit in the United States. He and his committee investigating un-Americanism have also hit "em where it hurts—hard.

Mixed in with such telling blows as the indictment of No. 1 Communist Earl Browder for passport fraud, are offers from Strip-Teaser Gypsy Rose Lee to bare all, if only the committee will come to her.

And just when Dies drags in testimony relating supposed immorality in the German-American Bund, and brings Bundster Fritz Kuhn unfavorably into the limelight, one of the committee members mistakes Christopher Marlowe for a Communist, and streaks off, hell for leather, to scalp this terrible Red. Too late, he realizes he's jousting with the ghost of a 16th Century dramatist who never heard of Communism.

Then of course, there was Dudley Pierpont Gilbert and the phantom waiter who knew all of America's political and military secrets, but who never could be found. Mr. Gilbert is the fellow who bought himself a $5,000 retreat in Kentucky against the day this winter when the revolution will wipe out the good old United States as we know it.

But the Dies Committee is sure it has done more practical punting on the Reds and the Nazis than either of the other two "ism" hunters in Congress since 1930.

Although the Fish committee of 1930 and the McCormack committee of 1935 fathered interesting testimony and made thoughtful recommendations to tighten the restrictions on aliens, both of them missed the boat so far as permanently hurting any of the of the country's large labor organizations is conducting a quiet purge of its Communists.

6. Dies insists the Roosevelt administration is purging 2,850 known Communists from key positions in the government.

7. CIO's West Coast big shot, Harry Bridges, was ultimately brought to trial as a deportable alien Communist. (Decision pending).

8. Congress voted an investigation of the National Labor Relations Board.

9. Congress put a stop to the WPA's Federal Theater Projects, which Dies witnesses said were over-ridden with Communists.

10. The Senate halved the appropriation of the LaFollette Civil Liberties Committee to $50,000 in 1939, but the House gave Dies' committee, working the other side of the "ism" street, $100,000, which is an increase of $75,000.

5. Dies boasts that one

"ism" boys and their leftwing friends.

With Dies, it's different. He uses the widespread publicity his committee gets to put the political screws on people whose names appear in the testimony of his witnesses.

Pressure on Madame Perkins. The Bridges case is an outstanding example. As soon as anti-CIO witnesses had testified that Harry Bridges was a Communist and a deportable alien from Australia, Dies accused Madame Secretary Perkins, of the Labor Department, of coddling enemy aliens. Madame Secretary was adamant. She wouldn't bound Bridges until the Supreme Court passed out a definition of a deportable alien. That went on for months. Finally the Supreme Court eased by the question, and at long last this fall, Harry Bridges was brought before an immigration hearing. A decision is now pending.

Publicity is the one wide-open avenue to results for any congressional committee investigating "isms."

The Russo-German non-aggression pact, signed last August, was right down Dies' alley. In no time at all he was howling derisively at those unnatural bedfellows.

"Communazis," he shouted, with an I-told-you-so glint in his eye. And there's little doubt but what that pact gives the Dies Committee added lustre.

Dies has convinced lots of voters that there's bound to be some subversive fire behind all the smoke his witnesses are fanning up. Despite his frank admission that he's heard quite a few crackpot witnesses, and his investigating staff was inefficient at first, Congress voted Dies another $100,000 to continue the show through 1939. And it's a 40-to-1 bet on Capitol Hill that Congress will give him another $100,000 for curtain calls in the critical election year of 1940.

That's $225,000 for a five-foot shelf of Un-Americanism.

Tomorrow: Is Martin Dies playing 1940 politics?

Greenwich, Conn., Dec. 21 (AP)—A new gymnasium, nearly completed, at the Blythwood Sanitarium, was destroyed today by fire of undetermined origin which threatened for a time to spread to dozens of other buildings. The loss was estimated at $40,000. Evacuation of patients was unnecessary but firemen had difficulty in keeping the flames from spreading to rain-soaked structures. Flames, soaring high into the sky, attracted several hundred nearby residents. The building would have been completed within a few weeks.

Lepke Faces Other Charges; Sentence Set for January 2

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Swarthy Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, 42, who will be sentenced January 2 for conspiracy to violate the narcotic laws, still faced today narcotic and bribery charges under which he could be sentenced to a maximum penalty of 164 years in prison and $180,000 in fines.

Judge John C. Knox told William W. Kleinman, Buchalter's attorney, that "you should know how you are going to plead on these other charges by January 2" but Kleinman did not indicate how his client would plead.

A federal court jury convicted Buchalter of conspiracy last night after hearing the government describe him as "top man" in a $10,000,000 international syndicate which smuggled narcotics into the United States illegally from France, Japan, China and other countries in 1935-37.

Buchalter, once described by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey as "Public Enemy No. 1," and "the nation's No. 1 industrial racketeer," did not take the stand to defend himself. His counsel offered brief character testimony and insisted that the jury disregard his reputation as an industrial racketeer.

Max Schmuckler, a co-defendant, was convicted of the same charge, but David Kardonick, the third co-defendant, was acquitted. Maximum penalties of two years in prison and $10,000 fines can be imposed on Schmuckler and Schmuckler.

Kardonick and Schmuckler denied participating in the syndicate's operations. The government maintained that attractive women in the syndicate's pay, had brought forbidden narcotics into this country in trunks, in several instances.

Originally, the case against Buchalter involved 30 defendants, including several women and discharged United States customs agents. Eighteen persons have pleaded guilty, and the others are awaiting trials.

Chicago — Mayor Edward J. Kelly proclaimed Christmas Eve a "night of light" in Chicago.
"I request every citizen to keep every room of every building fully lighted with blinds wide open from dusk to midnight on Christmas Eve," said the mayor.

Holiday Dinner

These old favorites have a new, tempting flavor—given by imitation maple flavoring. The flavoring and sweet potatoes bring out the sweet natural flavors of the ham, and gives a new fruity flavor to the plum pudding.

HOLIDAY HAM—11-pound mild cured ham, 4 tablespoons ground cinnamon, 2 tablespoons ground cloves, 6 tablespoons dry mustard, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon flavoring, 1 cup water, 3 cups flour. Score ham in inch squares, using sharp knife. Place one clove in each cross section. Mix cinnamon, cloves, mustard and brown sugar. Add to 1 cup water and 1 teaspoon flavoring. Spread paste over ham. Dredge in three cups flour. Wrap in Patapar or wrappings from ham and tie with white cotton twine. Bake in oven broiler. Keep bottom of pan well covered at all times with water (about 2 inches). Put in cold oven. Heat to 375° F. Allow 15 minutes baking for each pound. After removing paper, ham may be baked for 15 minutes to brown crust. Serve with mustard sauce or raisin sauce.

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES—4 medium size sweet potatoes, 3 tablespoons butter, ¼ teaspoon flavoring. Boil sweet potatoes in jackets. Peel, slice. Roll in granulated sugar. Melt butter and add flavor. Then fry sliced sweet potatoes in flavoring mixture, cooking slowly.

PLUM PUDDING—2 eggs, ½ teaspoon melted shortening, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon flavoring, 2 cups prunes, cooked (measure after draining and pitting) 1 cup flour, sifted, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, with cooked prunes which have been cut into medium sized pieces. Sift flour and salt together and add more than 2/3 full. Cover with waxed paper; place in steamer over boiling water and steam one hour. Do not lift the cover before the pudding is cooked as it will make the pudding fall. This prune pudding may also be steam-baked. Using glass custard cups fill each cup not more than 2/3 full. Set these in pan of hot water, having water reach well up on cup. Bake 45 to 50 minutes in moderate oven (350° F.). Serves 8 to 10. Serve hot with whipped cream or cream sauce.

CREAM SAUCE—3 tablespoons butter, 2/3 cup powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon Mapleine, 2 cups cream, whipped. Cream butter and sugar, adding sugar gradually. Beat well. Add flavoring and whipped cream. Place bowl in boiling water and stir constantly for three minutes. Pour into warm bowl. Serve over pudding.

One Is Beloved

BY LOUISE PLATT HAUCK

YESTERDAY Sue, convinced that marriage is a partnership, tells Bob she intends to do everything to help Patsy and Allen make a success of their marriage. Patsy responds, hoping to get something out of it.

Chapter 18

Patsy's Bitterness

THERE was an embarrassed little silence. Sue's cheeks burned; not because of the broadness of Patsy's hint but because Barbara had heard it.

"We'll go shopping soon, Patsy, and see what can be done about the gaps in your wardrobe," she promised.

After Patsy had departed, Barbara reproached her friend.

"That means, I suppose, that you'll take her downtown and outfit her completely? Sue, why do you do yourself by imposing on like that?"

"Oh, I shan't buy her much. Allen would be hurt if I did. An evening gown to take the place of the one Marie appropriated, and maybe something smart for afternoons."

"Well—," Barbara shrugged—"considering the way she treated you while you lived with Allen, I do think you're an angel to her."

Sue yielded to an impulse to confide in this sympathetic listener.

"I don't like her a bit better than I did, Bob! In fact, there are times when it takes all the self-control I have merely to endure her selfishness, her greed, but I can always ston myself from saying hard things to her by remembering that Allen's happiness is in her hands. If I can make something of her in the end, it is Allen who will benefit."

Bob murmured something about a silk purse. Her young hostess, secretly convinced that her task was futile but stubbornly determined to keep at it, sighed and changed the subject.

The first winter of her marriage passed rapidly and pleasantly for Sue Trenton. If the passionate love she had hoped to feel for Bob, his wife did not develop a very real and warm affection did.

It was impossible not to be fond of a person who was as generous, as light-hearted, as concerned with the happiness of others as was Bob. She thought contentedly. Believing herself to be fundamentally cold, she urged herself to the greatest possible response to his caresses, to a wifely care for his comfort, an interest in his business affairs which deceived Bob utterly. Again and again he reminded her triumphantly of her earlier fears.

"You see, you did fall in love with me after all!" His wide smile disclosed his big white teeth. "Believe you were fooling me all along, you little fraud! Tantalizing me, weren't you—just to increase my idiotic madness over you? Well, you succeeded! I'm the world's most besotted husband."

She would smile at this, and return his deep kisses with a warmth she did her best to feel. It was a small price she paid for the happiness of her life. She loved her big, beautiful house. She was youthfully proud of her dignity and importance as the wife of one of the town's richest men. It was fun to be able to dash down to Kansas City for a new evening coat, if she could not find anything in the shops at home to please her.

She had always been interested in helping those less fortunate than she was, and now she could buy season concert tickets for impoverished young musicians, send flowers lavishly to the frail old ladies who hungered for them, slip a hundred dollar bill into a plain envelope and mail it anonymously to a young mother just out of the hospital and worrying about how the bills were to be paid.

Bob aided and abetted her in these pleasant charities. He turned a generous sum over to her every month for the purpose. It was Sue, as a matter of fact, who imposed a definite limit on their expenditures.

Sense Of Unease

"WE MUSTN'T" overdo it, dear. It's as bad to err one way as another. Besides, in these precarious days who knows what might happen? The business might fail."

"Not it!" was the careless answer. "I've got sense enough to stick to the policy which built it up in the first place. That's the reason that most rich men's sons fail, I think. Sue, they get swelled heads, think their dads were too conservative, and begin to splurge; and first thing they know they're bankrupt. Not if I figure Dad was a good psychologist to appraise the needs of the average man and woman when it comes to footwear; and I'm going right along as he started the Treasons."

"The stock-holders would like me to move East to live," he continued thoughtfully. "I suppose we shall have to sometime. But not yet, Sue! I love this town. I'm crazy about the house. I'm always afraid somebody else will like our location so well that a building boom will start up out here. Never mind, they can't come very close to us. I've seen to that. We own enough land all around us to keep our precious isolation."

Maggie had taken it for granted that she was to live with the young Trentons. Sue, however, had been unwilling for Allen to be left to Patsy's bad management, the mercies of an untrained servant. It had required much coaxing to induce the old woman to stay on in the apartment; and every so often on her day off she came to see her beloved Miss Sue, grumbling and complaining with the privilege of one who considered herself part of the family.

"Pretty goings on these days," she announced darkly on one of these visits. "I bet Mr. Allen don't know about the drinkin' an' smokin' that we have most every afternoon. I been waitin' for the first time Mrs. Allen asks me to fix up them little drinks she calls cocktails. I'd right quick tell her I ain't nobody's bar-tender! But if she don't do 'em herself, the men do. All she asks of me is to put the glasses on a tray and set out the ice-cubes."

"Never mind, Mag dear," Sue said coaxingly. "Lots of people of cocktail now instead of tea. Mrs. Allen is just keeping up with the rest."

Maggie looked over the rims of her spectacles.

"Why'n't she ever have any ladies in to help drink 'em, then? It's men—two or three men every afternoon she's home. Your father would turn in his grave if he knew it."

"Better three men than one, Mag dear. Safety in numbers, you know."

But these talks invariably left Sue with a sense of unease about her brother. He was working too hard, she knew, making more money for Patsy to spend on foolish clothes, and the occasional elaborate dinner party she gave; and now on liquor, it seemed—unless her guests furnished their own drinks.

"Spoiled to Death" ALLEN was nobody's fool. He must know almost to the last detail what was going on. Sue knew his long patience; knew too that when it was finally exhausted Allen would be through. He never threatened nor made a scene; but when the moment came that he could stand no more, it would be physically impossible for him to continue in the role of indulgent husband.

Toward spring, Sue determined to try stern remonstrance with her sister-in-law. If the privileges of the Trenton hospitality were withdrawn from the luxury-loving Patsy, she might reform for selfish reasons when an appeal to her duty toward her husband left her cold.

"Come out and spend the day with me, Patsy," she telephoned one morning. "That is, unless you're all dated up. I thought last night I might have a cold coming on. I think I've headed it off, but Bob wanted me to stay in all day."

"I had a halfway engagement," Patsy hesitated. "But I'll break it, of course. Glad to do anything I can for you, Sue. I know it must be deadly dull so far out from town!"

Sue smiled but let the challenge pass unnoticed. "I'll send the car in for you then, and telephone Bob to bring Allen out to dinner."

"Let's go up into my own sitting room," she proposed, after she had greeted her caller. She knew Patsy would like that. It was not everyone who was allowed in what Sue called her private retreat. It was a sunny room adjoining her bedroom, filled with flowering plants and just now especially inviting with a small fire of applewood snapping on the old brass andirons. Bob was forever discovering some attractive addition to its furnishings. Today Sue had a new Dresden group to show, the arch expression of the small lady ridiculously evident on the tiny face.

"Isn't she darling? And don't you love the man's air of concealed protectiveness? As if without him she couldn't exist a single hour!" Bob's agent in New York got it at an auction. It came yesterday, packed as carefully as if it were blown eggshells."

"How much longer is the honeymoon going to last?" Patsy inquired disagreeably. "Bob Trenton spoils you to death, Sue. Wait till the kids begin to come, and he'll change all that."

"I wish they would come!" Sue sighed a little. "Twenty-six next time, and my bad little boys and girls obstinately refuse to send out announcement cards."

"All very well for you, my dear! You won't have to get up nights with them, or fix their bottles, and change their horrid little clothes. You'll have a smart English nurse, and the babies will be brought down to show callers, and that's all motherhood will mean to you!"

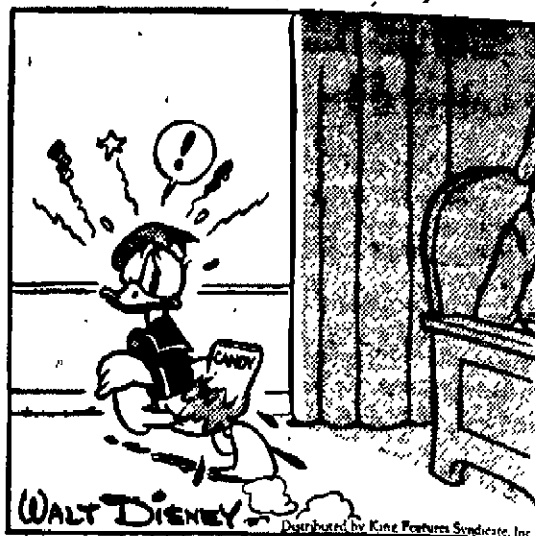

The bitterness in her tone caused Sue to glance at her quickly.

"Yes, it's true! I thought Allen would have told you by now. When you telephoned this morning I thought you wanted to lecture me about taking better care of myself. Heaven knows that's the burden of Allen's song these days!"

"Why, Patsy! Why, my blessed child! I hadn't an idea. I'm so glad! A baby of your own. When, Pats, when?"

Farmer--Why are you coming home with your milk pail empty?

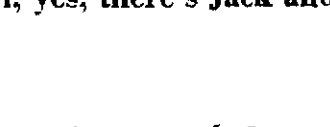

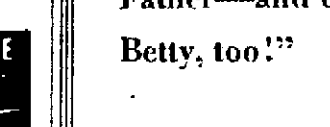

The new superintendent of a private lunatic asylum was strolling around the grounds a few weeks after his appointment, when suddenly one of the inmates accosted him.

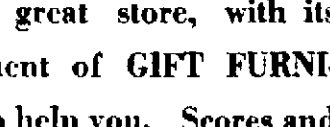

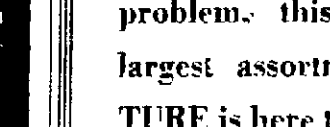

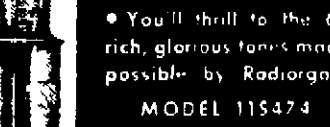

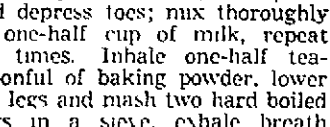

Robinson--Me got married? No sir! Marriage makes me think of a cafeteria at noon time.

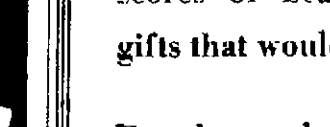

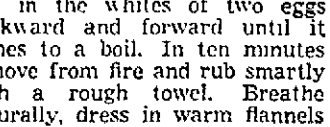

Hosely--Ho so?

Robinson--In either case, one simply grabs something that looks nice and pays for it later.

A woman asked her husband recently to copy a radio recipe. He did his best, but got two stations at once.

Liberals May Call Own Convention

velt decided to try for a third term, Ickes said.

"It (the liberal conference), he explained, 'might be called before or after the President had announced a decision or it might be held after both parties had chosen their candidates.'

"The convention, he said, would not be aimed at setting up a third political party.

Its primary purpose, he continued, would be to direct support to whichever party went to the country under a liberal banner.

In event both named 'reactionary candidates,' however, he said the liberals might be called upon for a 'sacrifice bill.'

Third Party Suggestion

Asked to amplify this remark, he said the liberals might decide, if they had nowhere else to turn, to launch a third party ticket, perhaps in New York state, with almost certain knowledge of defeat.

"You can't get anywhere with a third party movement in this country," he said. "The politicians, through state primary laws, have seen to it since 1912 that there can be no successful third party."

"But the liberals might call for a sacrifice bill. Sometimes you can show strength negatively as well as positively."

Under questioning, Ickes expressed the belief that it was possible that the Democratic party would name a "conservative" in 1940. Politicians, he said, control the party nominating conventions. His idea, he added, is that there should be a nation-wide primary for the selection of presidential and vice presidential nominees.

When questioned about his views on Vice President Garner's recent announcement that he would accept the Democratic nomination, Ickes said that he preferred not to indulge in personalities but to draw a general line of demarcation between conservatives and liberals.

Balance of Power

"The liberals hold a balance of power," he said. "I am convinced that if a liberal runs he can be elected."

"I am profoundly convinced that we will be in the real shoals economically and socially if the next President is not a liberal."

He added that he personally might take responsibility for calling a conference if the leaders decided upon one. He said he was unable now to suggest a possible convention city, although there had been some talk of a mid-western choice.

Ickes said he had not discussed the proposed convention with President Roosevelt, that it was more a suggestion than a plan and that activities on the political front within the next few months might not make it necessary at all. He declined to discuss what those activities might be.

Russia Celebrates Stalin's Birthday And Pays Honors

Moscow, he asked if they knew a certain old folk song. None did, so Stalin sang it himself.

He is fond of music and often goes to the opera or has concerts in the Kremlin. He frequently amuses himself by playing selections from his large collection of phonograph records.

A daughter, Svetlana, 14, lives with him in the Kremlin. A son, Jacob, 31, child of his divorced first wife, is a Moscow engineer.

Arnold Smith Is Thought To Be Member of Ship's Crew

There is added local interest in the scuttling and burning of the big German luxury liner, Columbus, east of Cape May, N. J., on Tuesday from the fact that Arnold Smith, a resident of Kingston for 10 years or so, presumably was a member of the crew.

Smith, who more recently had been engaged at the Bull Market on Smith avenue, is said to have taken a position on the Columbus shortly before hostilities broke out in Europe. He is understood to have been employed in the ship's laundry.

Smith is a cousin of Walter Smith, of the Governor Clinton Tailor Shop, and the latter received a letter from him written from Vera Cruz, Mexico, a couple of months ago, the Columbus at that time having taken refuge in the harbor there. Whether he left with the ship when it sailed on its last voyage December 14, is not known here. Press reports following the disaster Tuesday stated that some members of the crew refused to remain with the ship for the Atlantic dash, including 17 Chinese members of the crew and three Italians who had deserted earlier.

Arnold Smith came to Kingston some ten years ago from Germany. He was for a while employed as a waiter in McCabe's restaurant, for a number of years worked as a clerk in the Wagner & Beesmer delicatessen on Broadway, and more lately was employed in Beck's Market and in the Bull Market.

The 32,000 ton Columbus, third largest ship in the German merchant marine and 13th biggest liner in the world, was on a Caribbean cruise, with nearly 800 American passengers, when Germany invaded Poland. Her commander headed the vessel for Havana, where passengers were disembarked on September 1. On September 3, the ship anchored a miles off the Heads of Vera Cruz, its draft not permitting it to enter the harbor. A few days later the Mexican authorities gave permission for it to anchor in the protected harbor of Anton Lizardo, six miles south of Vera Cruz. On December 14, the ship sailed into the Gulf after having taken on 25,000 barrels of fuel oil and supplies from another vessel.

Local Death Record

Alice Mann, 18 Maiden Lane, died Wednesday. Her funeral will be held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Saturday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. William H. Stokes, who died in Jersey City, was held from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home in Kingston on Tuesday. Burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery. Services were conducted by the Rev. B. C. Roth at the grave. Floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

Mrs. Oneither Cantine, wife of James Cantine, died at her home, 67 Sumpter street, Brooklyn, on Tuesday. Surviving are her husband and six children. The body will be brought to this city and funeral services held from the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with burial in Mt. Zion Cemetery. Mrs. Cantine is a former resident of this city residing for many years on South Pine street, before removing to Brooklyn.

Walter Glowinski Punches His Sister

Walter Glowinski, 24, of 152 Wilbur avenue, was arrested Wednesday evening by Mrs. Helen Krum, his sister, at her home, 236 South Wall street. Mrs. Krum charged her brother with third degree assault in striking her with his fist.

This morning in police court Judge Raymond Mino imposed a fine of $5 but suspended the payment of the fine on condition that Glowinski refrain from "annoying" his sister in the future.

John Hogan, 45, of Albany, who was given an opportunity to leave the city Wednesday morning when arraigned on a public intoxication charge, was picked up that evening by the police who charged him with both public intoxication and panhandling on East Strand. This morning Judge Mino fined him $30 on each charge or serve a day in jail for each dollar unpaid, the sentences to run concurrently. Clarence Cassell, 44, who said he had no home, was arrested last evening for public intoxication on Wall street. Today he was sentenced to five days in jail when unable to pay a $5 fine.

Vitamin Formed in Milk By 'Miraculous' Process

When the existence of vitamins in foods was first discovered not even the discoverers knew what a vitamin was. Scientists had learned that there was something in certain foods that possessed almost magical health-building qualities.

Later, says the National Dairy council, science gave the fat soluble chemical substance found in the butterfat of milk the name vitamin A. This vitamin is now recognized as necessary for health at all ages and for growth of children.

An important fact about vitamin A is that animals can eat green leaves and miraculously transform the carotene content of these vegetables into vitamin A. The cow's capacity for eating and digesting huge amounts of bulky food gives butterfat a vitamin A value higher per gram than that of any other food except green leaves themselves, yellow vegetables and liver.

Dr. Henry C. Sherman of Columbia university points out that the cow performs a most important service in bringing vitamin A values from the bulky and fibrous plant tissues into the fat of her milk which is readily utilized as human food. Any substitution of other fats for butterfat in foods is dubious economy so far as it tends to lower the vitamin A value of the dietary.

This fact was dramatically illustrated during the World war when Denmark exported too much of its butterfat, depriving a large part of the population of its usual source of vitamin A. The eye disease xerophthalmia, due to vitamin A deficiency, increased steadily until 1918. When the German blockade prevented further exports of butter and it again became available to the Danish people, the eye disease was checked.

Should Be Easy to Find
Houston, Tex. (AP)—Houston police are hunting Mr. X. They don't know his name, so here's the way they filed theft charges against him: "State of Texas versus one white man, occupant of car Texas license No. 39402, plum colored sedan; man five feet nine inches, 30 years old, black hair, dark complexion, brown suit and hat; to be pointed out by Henderson Riley (the victim)."

Where They Come From Christmas Stockings

THE wooden shoes in the chimney corners of Holland are step signs for St. Nicholas as he rides Woden's horse on Christmas Eve. From the American tradition comes the American custom of hanging up stockings. Children of France took up the practice of putting their shoes by the hearth for St. Nicholas. It is said that children of the United States and England chose stockings instead of shoes because the stockings would hold more gifts.

Academy Students In Pageant Cantata

The singing and dramatization of the Christmas story featured the pageant cantata given last evening in St. Mary's auditorium by the students at the Academy of St. Ursula.

The entire student body participated either in the personages in the tableaux or else in the chorus which sang traditional familiar and unfamiliar carols and hymns. The tableaux were given before two settings, the first two before red velvet drops, and the last two before a rustic setting. The chorus, wearing white Grecian costumes and gold head bands, were flanked in tiers on either side of the stage and sang before and during the presentation of each scene, carols which told of the Christmas story from the annunciation to the nativity.

As the curtains parted on each scene, the audience was impressed with the beauty and coloring of the costumes. Each tableau seemed to be a living representation of a famous painting. The well-placed figures, the elaborate costumes which were as complete as possible in authenticity, and the sweet voices of the well trained singers gave the audience a restful treat to begin the Christmas season.

The tableaux presented were "Our Lady," the Annunciation, the shepherds on the fields of Bethlehem, and the Nativity. The last scene was in two parts, the first, the arrival of the shepherds and the wise men, and the second, the arrival of the little children.

Good—Taste Today

Kissing Father Good-Bye
Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be improper for me to kiss my father as he turns to leave me with the groom and take his place beside mother in the pew? I know this would surprise and please dad very much, but I wouldn't want to do it if its propriety could be questioned.

Answer: This would be very unusual but I can see no objection to it. There is only one moment when you could do this. It would have to be just as he takes your hand and before he can give it to the clergyman, because you can't possibly reach around backwards to kiss him after he has let your hand go.

Details of Giving a Lunch Party
Dear Mrs. Post: (a) Is a damask tablecloth unsuitable for a lunch party? (b) May candles be used in a dark room at lunch time, and may I use place cards? I think the place cards would be an easier way of seating my guests. Trying to remember the places I had thought best for each one is very difficult for me.

Answer: (a) A white damask cloth is less suitable for lunch than it is for dinner, and a colored one less suitable for dinner than it is for lunch, but both may be used at either time. (b) Yes to both, if both are necessary. When you are not using place cards and must remember where many are to be seated, you should make a list of your guests with your own name toward you and then their names in the order they are to sit on the right and left of you. Keep this list in your hand while you stand to seat people.

A Man's Tuxedo
Dear Mrs. Post: (a) Is a waistcoat worn with a double-breasted tuxedo coat? I don't mean the double-breasted white summer tuxedo. (b) Another question about the tuxedo is whether this double-breasted dinner jacket is as good style as the single-breasted one.

Answer: (a) Since the double-breasted coat is never unbuttoned, a waistcoat is optional. (b) The double-breasted coat is less formal than the single-breasted coat, and its use is limited to summer or to really informal winter occasions. In fashionable communities, many of the younger men who have no full dress evening clothes wear the single-breasted tuxedo with a white waistcoat as an accepted substitute for "tails."

An Anniversary Present
Dear Mrs. Post: What can one give a man and wife who are giving a party on their second wedding anniversary, which I understand is cotton.

Answer: Something of cotton to put in the "linen" closet would be suitable. Sheets, bath towels, washcloths, or small turkish hand towels, or chintz covered hangers, and so on!

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "Wedding Anniversaries." Be sure to send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Mrs. Post in care of this paper, P. O. Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y.

Perhaps You Too Make These Bridge Boners

By Samuel Fry, Jr.
The bidding mistakes that infuriate partners lose games—what are they? Well, here are a few of them. Check and see if you are guilty.

Your opponents make a three-trump bid, you have a smattering of honor strength—and you double! That's hair-trigger doubling—and it's risky.

Chances are your opponents redouble and make several overtricks, because in addition to having all suits stopped they probably have a long six- or seven-card minor suit not stressed in the bidding.

You hold in Spades the Ace, Jack, 6, 4, 3—in Hearts, King, Jack, 7, 2—in Diamonds, nothing—in Clubs, King, Jack, 10, 5.

Yet you pass! A bad piece of under-bidding. Though you haven't 2½ honor tricks, your 5-4-4 distribution, plus jacks and one 10, makes a bid compulsory.

And do you make unnecessary jump bids? Do you falter when you shouldn't? See your bridge faults as others see them. Our 32-page booklet tells what to avoid, what to do in bidding at bridge. Helps you to win games, be a popular partner.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR BRIDGE to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and the NAME of booklet.

Electric Power Output Again at New High Record

With industrial use at a high rate, in addition to the seasonally high demand for electricity, electric power output for the week ended December 16 made another new high record. Total for the week was 2,604,558,000 kwh, which is an increase of 11.6 per cent over the like week in 1938 and is the second consecutive week in which a new record has been registered.

Although definite estimates are not yet available, earnings of steel companies in the final quarter of this year are indicated substantially in excess of the third quarter, when 18 leading companies had aggregate net profits of $26,672,021. Although there normally should be a substantial drop in output the last week, due to the holiday, operations for the entire quarter should average around 85 per cent of capacity or better as the average for the first two and a half months was between 91 and 92 per cent. In the September period the output was something over 62 per cent of capacity. Better price average also are a factor in the earnings.

One of the first results of the disclosures made in the hearings before a House committee investigating the National Labor Relations Board may be to provide additional support for Inland Steel Co. in its petition to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for dismissal of a NLRB order against the steel company. The firm already had petitioned the court to set aside the board orders on grounds that the trial was unfair, particularly because of alleged bias and prejudice on the part of the trial examiner when hearings were held in 1937.

Gasoline inventories are mounting and foreign demand is said to be below normal, as a result of which mid-continent wholesalers have reduced prices a quarter of a cent a gallon since December 1.

Consolidated Aircraft has been awarded a contract for airplanes for the U. S. totaling $30,000,000. Nash dealers are reporting the best December business in 10 years, with sales 40 to 50 per cent ahead of a year ago, according to Sales Manager Biles.

Stock market averages finished on the upside in trading Wednesday on the New York Stock Exchange, although net gains failed to make up for losses in the preceding day. Volume was up a bit, total being 310,000 shares vs. 250,000 Tuesday. There was profit-taking toward the close and final prices were below the best levels of the day. At the finish the Dow-Jones averages showed industrial stocks up .20 point for the day, to 149.13; rails ahead .29 point, to 31.42 and utilities advanced .05, to 24.87.

It is stated that foreign selling that some time ago was running as high as $1,000,000 a day in the market here has declined of late and recently has been at the rate of only $100,000 to $300,000 a day.

Commodities again moved downward Wednesday as speculative liquidation and profit-taking continued and the Dow-Jones commodity index showed a drop of 38 point from Tuesday. Cotton futures slumped as much as $1 a bale under selling by Bombay and Liverpool brokers and at the close futures were unchanged to off 21 points. Tuesday's selling in wheat continued and prices at Chicago showed losses for the day of two to two and a quarter cents a bushel. Silk, which for five days had been making the maximum advances of 15 cents a pound was weak and dropped the limit of 15 cents. Sugar rallied after early softness and rallied briskly in late trading. Duty-free raws were offered at three cents, with buyers refusing to pay more than 2.80 cents a pound.

With increased operating expenses because of the country-wide drought and need of cash for construction expenses, and need cash for construction, Niagara Hudson Power took no action on common stock dividend. Earnings in 1939 are estimated to have been about the same as in 1938.

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Selective rising power remained in the stock market today but many issues were neglected. Gains ranged from fractions to more than a point at the best. These were cut down or cancelled later. In extremely slow dealings quotations were uneven near the final hour. Transfers were at the rate of approximately 750,000 shares.

Steels led an extension of Wednesday's recovery swing in the forenoon. Most failed to hold. An assortment of specialties were in front throughout.

The news generally was to the liking of the financial district, but offerings to establish losses for income statements were sufficient to keep rallying steam light. Brokers, however, reported reinvestment demand provided the principal price bulwark.

American Telephone moved into new high ground for the year. Ahead at one time or another—some eventually slipped—were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Southern Railway and Distillers Corp.-Sagraw.

Western Union dipped. Backward also were Union Carbide, General Electric, Goodyear and Sears Roebuck.

Wheat and cotton futures rebounded. Bonds were narrowly mixed, as were European securities markets.

Given a lift in the curb were Humble Oil, American Gas, Gulf Oil and Lake Shore.

Woman Challenges State's Right to Tax Cigarettes

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A challenge to the state's right to enforce a tax on cigarettes—now costing millions of smokers two cents a package—was voiced today by Ruth Anderson, 30, when she pleaded innocent to a complaint charging she "smuggled" 16 cartons of cigarettes into New York from New Jersey without state tax stamps.

Miss Anderson, who said she would carry the fight to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary, already has appealed her conviction and a $25 fine imposed by New York city authorities for violation of the city's one-cent tax.

Presiding Justice Max Salomon of special sessions agreed to postpone Miss Anderson's trial on the state complaint until after a decision has been handed down by the appellate division on her appeal against the city tax conviction—probably in January.

Meanwhile, the New York Daily News opened a campaign against the double-barreled tax by sending Reporter Rosaleen Doherty, to New Jersey to bring back untaxed cigarettes—after giving authorities notice in an editorial with pictures.

The news later announced that Miss Doherty had made the "smuggling" expedition successfully, crossing on the Hoboken ferry with four cartons of untaxed cigarettes under her arm.

"She was not stopped, and the cigarettes are now on display in the front window along with a five-foot enlargement of the editorial and a placard stating: 'These are the cigarettes,'" the News announced.

"We shall await the arrival of Mr. Aimee's (Joseph M. Aimee, chief of the cigarette tax division)

Mechanized or Motorized?

Mechanized and motorized are military terms meaning two different things, though many who use the words do so interchangeably. Mechanized units are those with vehicles built to travel over all but the most difficult terrain—tanks, combat troops, carriers and gun carriages moving on caterpillars or multiple axle arrangements. Motorized units are simply units equipped with enough trucks to transport the entire organization. In the case of motorized artillery, guns usually are towed behind trucks. In any case, the motorized unit can't take its rolling stock off highways except in the limited way that any truck may be operated off a prepared road. Military timetables, incidentally, give 150 miles as the average day's march for a mechanized division and 175 miles as the average day's march for a motorized division.

Tuberculosis Cure Seen
The eventual eradication of tuberculosis—with or without a chemical cure—now seems assured, believes Dr. Henry D. Chadwick of the National Tuberculosis Association.

"There has been an average annual decline of 4.3 tuberculosis deaths per 100,000 population since the association was founded in 1904," he stated recently. "I see no reason why the decline shouldn't persist until the disease is eradicated. The improvement continued right through the depression, too." Dr. Chadwick, who is president of the association, said that he took this to indicate that living conditions in this country have been kept up. Meanwhile, medicine is looking hopefully to chemistry for a specific cure. Most of the progress has been through understanding of the disease and the treatment of it.

Llano, Tex. (AP)—Bud Evans is a cow-hand by trade but he doesn't draw the line at odd jobs. Mark Moss, Evans' employer, wanted a deer to replace a pet one that had died on his game preserve. Chinese consider reading in the bath unpardonable because "the written language, having been invented by a saint, Chong Chieh, is sacred and because it is composed after the style of the Great Sage, Confucius," says a Chinese columnist. Reading in bed, he adds, is also considered improper, though it is not quite so serious an offense as reading in the bath.

15 Arrested as Result of Needle Industries Strike

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office announced today the arrest of 15 members of Local 150, United Machinists of the needle industries (CIO) on a charge of conspiracy to commit violence during a 12-weeks strike in 1938.

A grand jury, Dewey's office said, ordered that information be lodged against the 15. Assistant District Attorney Bernard Yarrow said the strike disrupted the repairing and selling of second-hand sewing machines. Two of those arrested, the prosecutor added, were Rubin Worsager, 26, union business agent, and Sol Friedman, 24, a union delegate. The other 13 were members of the strike committee.

not know whether it was a good policy."

Thomas said he felt he would not be able to pay more than half the balance before February because of lack of work. Judge Traver gave the two until February to get the $150 balance and Davis until that time to get his $90 balance.

Burton Greau, who in June pleaded guilty to a policy violation and fined $100, was haled in court and asked why he had still a balance of $25 when he had been directed to pay all by September. He said he had been unable to make the payments and was given until February to clean up the fine.

Buel Case Dismissed

Elmer H. Nathan appearing for Leonard Buel, who was indicted for criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle resulting in death back in 1937, asked the court to dismiss the indictment. Buel was driving a car along 9-W near Saugerties on a stormy night when he picked up a man who was walking on the road. Near Lake Katrine Buel ran with an accident and the man riding with him was injured and later died. At the time Buel was injured about the head and wandered away from the scene. State Troopers later picked him up for leaving the scene but next day he went to the hospital for a concussion and Mr. Nathan said that a different slant was placed on the accident when Buel's condition really became known. The man was 75 years old and apparently was wandering about the country, said Nathan. Buel had met doctor's bills and paid on the hospital bills and there was no one desirous of prosecuting him, further said Nathan. Mr. Murray consented to the dismissal and Judge Traver granted the motion and discharged Buel.

Michael Coffredi of Kingston, who about a year ago was fined a total of $900 for policy slip operations, also appeared in court and three remaining indictments for the same offense were dismissed.

Oats Charge Out

An indictment charging Elizabeth F. Oats with assault, growing out of a shooting affray in the town of Woodstock when one Charles Ferro was injured, was also dismissed. John B. Miller, who was sentenced to 30 months in the county jail back in April, 1938, it was said, had been the man who actually committed the assault and the charge against Mrs. Oats was dismissed.

A dismissal was also granted in the indictment charging James Liburtucci of Ravena with criminal negligence in the operation of a Vasto Bros. truck at Malden last June when Harold Smith, a helper, was killed. Louis Bruhn appearing for the defendant said the accident happened at the junction of 9-W and Malden road and the parents' brothers and sisters of deceased did not desire to prosecute. Restitution in the form of insurance had been made and the court granted Mr. Bruhn's request for dismissal. Mr. Murray consented.

Jesse Decker of Kingston charged with burglary, third degree, alleged to have been committed on November 29, 1939, changed a former not guilty plea to one of guilty. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for defendant. Judge Traver sentenced Decker to a year in jail and suspended sentence and placed him on probation during good behavior.

Thomas Gallo, who was charged with abandonment of his family, was again in court. Gallo has a wife and two children who are about to be disposed of because of inability to pay rent. He had been paying $5 a week for the support and Mrs. Gallo said she could not exist on that. Gallo told the court he earned from $17.40 a week to $20 a week and was living at home with his brother-in-law and sister. The court directed he pay $10 a week. Gallo told the court he expected to be paid off in about four weeks and then would have to leave town and seek work and then he would have to pay board and would not be able to pay so long as he was employed and that situation would be met when he ceased to work. Payments will be made through Mrs. Dornus, county agent. Gallo was ordered to pay $10 a week some time ago and went back with his wife but later separated.

Soviet Planes Bomb Helsinki

after raging battles in which the invaders used hundreds of tanks. Flares Withdraw

Although temperatures 25 degrees below zero and gale-swept snows stalled the Russian drive in the far north, above the Arctic Circle, the Finns acknowledged they had withdrawn to Korpenniemi. They mentioned no fighting, however.

In the southeast, where the Russians apparently are attempting to split Finland at her narrowest in a westward drive, the Finns said they had taken the initiative and were advancing toward Salla. (Salla is 32 miles on a straight line west from the Russian frontier. If the Finnish report means defense troops are near there or have driven back Russian vanguards in that vicinity, they conflict sharply with Soviet statements that the Russians had pushed 80 miles west from the border.)

The Finnish communiqué said that defense troops which had stopped the Russian thrust had captured "much booty" in their counter-offensive, including three tanks, 30 army trucks and considerable quantities of machine-guns and ammunition.

Russians Lose Heavily

The Finns said the Russians had lost heavily in men and tanks in the isthmus front.

"Twenty heavy tanks advanced to our positions and were captured, besides which many were destroyed in front of our positions," a Finnish communiqué said.

The Finnish communiqué estimated more than 200 Russian warplanes had dived over Finnish territory Tuesday, over what it called the "most active day in the air since the outbreak of the war," beginning its fourth week today.

It said Finnish losses were "small" but that the Red air fleet had lost 14 planes shot down in combat with Finnish fighters and at least six others shot down by Finnish anti-aircraft guns.

On the Karelian isthmus, where the Finnish communiqué reported "numerous" Russian air attacks, 11 Soviet and six Finnish planes fought one thrilling battle behind the Mannerheim Line.

The Finnish fighter craft intercepted four Russian bombers screened by seven pursuit ships in a roaring fight from which one Russian and one Finnish ship slipped away at low altitude although none on either side was seen to fall.

Newburgh's Tax Rate Is $17.24

Newburgh's city tax rate for 1940 will be $17.24 per $1,000 valuation, which is $2.08 higher than this year's rate of $15.16.

The rate for 1940 is the highest rate in Newburgh's history.

The tax rate is fixed to raise the sum of $669,737.50 for general city purposes and highway purposes, and does not include any amount for welfare and relief purposes.

Welfare is administered through the city and town welfare and the amount is apportioned between the city and the town of Newburgh.

Kingston last year raised $898,234.52 which covered general city expenses, welfare and relief, and state and county taxes.

Jones Is Discharged

Hollywood, Dec. 21 (AP)—It looks as though the buried treasure of Hollywood Bowl—$200,000 in Mexican gold, some say—is going to stay buried. Henry Jones, Seattle mining man, and an assistant or two started digging Nov. 27 at a point in the bowl parking lot indicated by a "Doodlebug." Jones picked his way downward patiently through rocks and rubbish but now at a depth of 35 feet he has struck water and a big boulder. He indicated he would give up the search. Adding to his discouragement was the great mound of rocks and dirt beside the "treasure hole." He has to put it all back.

Netherlands Air Battle

Amsterdam, Dec. 21 (AP)—Netherlands planes fought an air battle with aircraft of undetermined foreign nationality today in full view of hundreds of residents of Utrecht. The engagement started at about noon (6:40 a. m. EST). The invaders were reported to have come from the east where The Netherlands borders Germany. A smoke curtain was dropped by the foreign fighters, who escaped under this protection. Heavy firing was heard from anti-aircraft guns and plumes of smoke from shells were seen.

Postal Record

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—The New York post office now holds the record for volume of mail handled in a single day: 17,508,033 pieces. That was yesterday's total, an increase of more than 90,000 over the figure last December 20. The receipts amounted to $469,225 and for Tuesday and Wednesday totaled $966,474.40. Postmaster Albert Goldman said the figures were the largest in history.

Held on Rape Charge

Sidney Towne, 46, who lives on Oak Ridge, near Ellenville, was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Hopkins and Trooper Reynolds on a charge of rape in the second degree. Arraigned before Justice M. D. Schoonmaker he was held for the grand jury, being committed to the Ulster county jail. At the same time the 17-year-old girl involved in the case was taken into custody and held as a wayward minor.

The average length of life in the Scandinavian countries, Australia and New Zealand is greater than it is in the United States.

Kingston Has A Santa Claus

Of course there is a Santa Claus in Kingston. To know that is so it is only necessary to visit the municipal auditorium this week where a group of public spirited women and their assistants are busy aiding the patron saint by packing Christmas bags which are to be delivered Saturday morning.

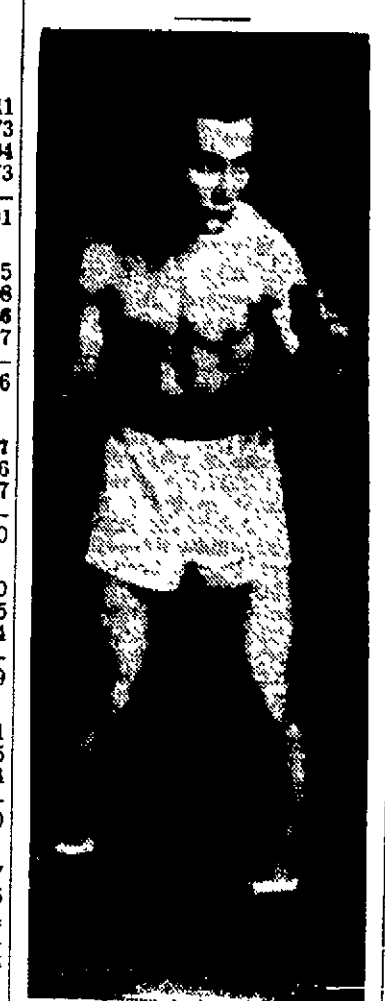

Mrs. Harry B. Walker, general chairman of the Mayor's Christmas Cheer Committee, said this morning that between 1,850 and 1,900 packages will be delivered in the city to that number of children, who might otherwise have been overlooked by Santa Claus.

The Christmas packages are piled high on the floor of the auditorium and the packages have been divided into 13 sections, each section representing a ward. By this method it is possible to load all of the Christmas packages for children in an ward on one truck. Santa Claus has exerted every effort to give to each child a useful as well as appropriate gift for the holiday season.

Landman Will Retire

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Louis W. Landman, general passenger traffic manager of the New York Central system, will retire January 1 after 53 years of railroad service, it was announced today.

Tom Zano Home For Christmas

TOMMY ZANO

Tommy Zano, Glasco's gift to the professional welterweight boxing ranks, is home for the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Zano arrived in Kingston Wednesday, coming here the day after his ring victory in White Plains over Ernie "Cat" Robinson of New York City.

"Although I won," Tommy told a reporter, "it was a hard battle, or rather a painful one, because I hurt both my hands early in the fight."

Zano has been suffering from battle hands since before he boxed in Kingston last summer on the two professional cards here.

The popular Glasco boxer, who has been doing well in the professional ranks, is signed for a fight at White Plains again on January 16. His opponent has not been named.

His match with Robinson last Tuesday was the first he had since he knocked out Mike Angeri in Brooklyn more than a month ago.

Indoor Tennis Starts December 26

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—The week that brings the day after Christmas means nothing but turkey hash and exchanging presents to most of us, but to 122 athletic ambitious youngsters it's the time of their lives.

For in that December 26-January 2 period the 23rd National Junior and the 22nd National Boys' indoor tennis tournaments will be held on the seven wooden courts of the Seventh Regiment Armory here.

The U. S. Loan Tennis Association announced today the tournaments had "very representative fields."

That was a polite way of saying there aren't quite as many entries as last year—but the fields are big enough to make it certain the winners will be as good young players as there are in the country.

New champions will be crowned in both events, since last year's capable winners both have outgrown the competition.

Joey Fishback, the fearsome Flatbusher who took the junior title home to Brooklyn two years in a row, has passed the age limit, and young James Evert of Chicago, who won the boys' title last year, has advanced, both in age and proficiency, and is entered in the junior meet.

Gehring Back For His 15th Year

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—Charles Leonard Gehring has traveled a long, glorious baseball road since those days when he bounced from the county fairgrounds diamond at Flowerville, Mich., right into a full-time second-basing job with the Detroit Tigers, so it's good news to hear he'll be hitting the major league highroad again next spring.

Before the 1940 campaign is well under way, "Silent Charley" will be 37 years old—and the subject of much speculation as to whether he'll be able to stick it out through his 15th full season with the Bengals. It's a certainty the quiet, reserved infielder won't have much to say about it himself—but his record will do a lot of talking in his favor.

He suffered a badly pulled leg muscle last June in the all-star game at Cooperstown, N. Y., and some of the boys said he was on the way out. But young Benny McCoy, who was expected to take Charley's place, apparently is headed for Philadelphia, giving rise to the thought that Tiger officials believe one of the greatest pair of legs in baseball will carry Gehring through another season.

Cafego May Not Play in Rose Bowl

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 21 (AP)—Tennessee's undefeated, untied and unscored on football team arranged to head for California's Rose Bowl today amid a lot of fuss over the injured knee of Halfback George Cafego.

Whether Cafego would be ready to rumble at top speed against Southern California in the New Year's Day classic at Pasadena remained a big question.

Coach Bob Neyland rates the great halfback, who injured his knee in the Citadel (S. C.) game November 11, as "a prayer without a weakness."

He is making his game preparations on the assumption Cafego will be ready, but just in case, Buist Warren and Johnny Butler, the sophomore flank, have been groomed for the tailback spot.

"Johnny Butler is doing so well I may not even get in the Rose Bowl game," Cafego commented. "Why, that Johnny is a threat every time he gets his hands on the ball."

Butler sprinted 56 zigzagging yards for the first touchdown against Alabama and repeated with a 40-yard thriller to conquer Auburn, 7-0, in Tennessee's final 1939 game.

The orange-shirted Volunteers, 35 strong, will leave for the west coast by train at 3 p. m. (Central Standard Time) and arrive in Los Angeles at 1 p. m. Sunday. En route they will stop at Greenville and El Paso, Tex., for brief workouts.

Fordham Manager

JOSEPH BROGAN

Joseph Brogan, formerly of Kingston, has been chosen manager of the Fordham football team for 1940. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Brogan, who removed from this city to Poughkeepsie last January, and began his managerial experience at Kingston High School. Young Brogan is a Junior at Fordham. This year he served as assistant manager of the varsity.

Florida Racing Season Starts

Miami, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP)—Florida's 96-day horse racing season, expected to draw more than $35,000,000 through the pari-mutuel machines, and enrich the state coffers by $1,500,000, gets under way today at Tropical Park.

With 2,000 horses available, limiting programs were drawn for the opening program, features by the $1,000 inaugural purse. Warren Wright's Beau James, three-year-old son of Jamestown, rated a probable favorite in a field of 15 sprinters.

The Tropical Park meeting will run 17 days, the action transferring January 10 to Hialeah Park for the next 46 days. After Hialeah closes March 2 with the $50,000 added Videner challenge cup, in which Chaldean may race, Tropical will reopen March 4 and conduct another meeting lasting through April 10.

Rotarians Hear of Delaware Project

Charles Hoerner, senior division engineer of the New York Board of Water Supply, now engaged on the Delaware Water project, was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting held Wednesday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

A comprehensive outline of the work in completing the mammoth project was given by the engineer in an interesting and instructive talk that was listened to with marked attention. Maps and blue prints were used to illustrate his description.

Present estimate of this new source of water supply for the city of New York was placed at $27,000,000. The project calls for the construction of three reservoirs. One on the Rondout, which will contain about 51 billion gallons of water and will be capable of supplying 100 million gallons daily. The second at Neversink will hold about 37 billion gallons and will supply 107 million gallons daily. The third at East Branch will hold approximately 147 billion gallons and is expected to be capable of furnishing 300 million gallons daily. This reservoir will be larger than the Ashokan reservoir.

The speaker also described the sinking of the 30 shafts, which range from a minimum of 315 feet to a maximum of 1,550 feet, the temporary tunnel to take care of the flow of water construction, the method of controlling the strong velocity of the water and the system used to safeguard the works.

In speaking of the highways which will connect with other arteries of travel, the speaker said that substitute highways for those taken for the project would be built. These highways which will run about 30 miles will be built of the latest design, with but few curves and great visibility to take care of the increased traffic of today. He said that when completed Ulster county would have one of the most beautiful scenic roads in the country.

Among the visitors present were Fred Ertel, John Parran, Gordon Burhans, G. Van Deusen Hutton and Rotarian Dr. Abraham.

The Rotary will present to the Industrial Home a motion picture projector machine including a screen for this year's Christmas gift.

Christmas songs featured the club singing with all members joining in lustily.

Driver Arrested After Accident

Richard Propheeter of Ulster Park was arrested at Port Ewen following an automobile accident in that village about 7 o'clock Wednesday night. He was charged with having driven a car while intoxicated and was placed under arrest by Earl Marion of Highland, whose car had been sideswiped.

Deputy Sheriff Charles McCullough, answering a call to the sheriff's office, arraigned Propheeter before Justice Benjamin H. Sleight, and after an examination by Dr. Ross, he was released pending a hearing Friday at 7 p. m. Bail of $50 was furnished.

The officer learned that Propheeter, driving north along the center of the highway, had sideswiped the Marion car, which was proceeding south. Mr. Marion was accompanied by his wife and two-year-old child and his mother. No injuries were reported.

Local High School Program Broadcast

Twelve hundred young voices of high school students sang the praise and joy of the Christmas season this morning at the Kingston high school, where the program was broadcast over WKNY.

The carolers were led by Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of schools, and accompanied by the high school orchestra under the baton of Leonard Stine. Every seat in the auditorium was filled, and many remained standing in the rear.

It was an inspiring sight as the 1,200 pupils stood and sang the old Christmas carols, while almost as many other students were hearing the broadcast over the radio as they assembled in the high school gym, directly under the auditorium from which the music was being sent out into the air.

Principal Clarence Dumm of the high school presided as master of ceremonies, and before the carol singing was broadcast three of the pupils rendered Christmas readings that were loudly applauded by their fellow students.

Among the guests at the broadcast were members of the Board of Education and their wives. Those in Kingston who had turned in Station WKNY reported that the broadcast came in clear and strong.

Among the Christmas carols that were sung were "Holy Night, Silent Night" and "Little Town of Bethlehem."

During the broadcast Miss Dorothea Groves of Port Ewen, a graduate of the high school, and widely known as a soprano soloist, sang as a solo an appropriate Christmas number.

Announcer Jack Bennett of Station WKNY announced the inauguration of the broadcast and the turned the program over to Principal Dumm, who spoke briefly, and then turned the program over to Superintendent Laidlaw.

sinking of his ship," and that "after bringing his crew to safety, he viewed his work as finished and followed his ship."

It said the admiralty "understands and honors this step." Hundreds of persons, many carrying wreaths, sought to enter the arsenal here to view Langsdorff's casket. Among several van-loads of flowers was a wreath bearing the inscription:

"Ich halt einen kammeraden." (I had a comrade—first line of an old German fighting song describing the death of a friend for the Fatherland.)

There was no evidence of flowers from Hitler or other high German officials, such as decorated the Montevideo graves of the Admiral Spee's 36 seamen slain in battle with the British.

Interned for the duration of the war, the seamen are to be dispersed in provinces distant from the sea.
